

Cork Northside: 37th out of 40 towns / cities surveyed. Heavily Littered.

Another disappointing result for Cork Northside with evidence of more litter than in previous surveys. There was only one A grade site, at Pope's Quay which was litter-free despite being a very heavily trafficked area. The two D+ sites at Ballyvalone Road and Kilmore Road) require immediate intervention and cleaning. Discarded masks were more widespread in this survey than any previously. There was evidence of ongoing mechanical cleaning of road/street kerb margin during the survey; however due to die back of vegetation long lie litter is more evident. This is impacting grades and should be cleaned up now while exposed. This would greatly improve the overall cleanliness of the area.
